

The Center for Youth

Annual Report

2017-2018

OUR DISTANT
SONS AND DAUGHTERS
HOLD THE ATTENTION
OF THE DAY.

By their side. | The Center for Youth

Hello our faithful community supporters and advocates ... another year has given us even more blessings and some challenges. Yes, 2017 brought great triumph as we increased our outreach to schools and our young people and their families through Teen Court and our youth advocates. It also brought us sadness and the reminder of the frailty of life. I have been focused recently on the legacy of our work, and what our founder Marty Weingarten may have had in mind when he envisioned The Center for Youth nearly a half a century ago. With this nostalgia comes our obligation to continue a legacy through diligent and innovative programs and services that remain youth centered and progressive. Bold and courageous.

IT'S ALWAYS BEEN OUR LEGACY TO EMBRACE THE FUTURE.

Elaine

I think daily about what I call our “distant sons and daughters” – those babies and children and youth we don't know yet ... those families whose crisis will become ours to support ... those youth whose lives fit in the balance between success and despair.

Those distant sons and daughters are our legacy and our future. The Center for Youth will be the beacon and the strength for so many, those we know and those we are yet to meet. Our expansion of the Crisis Nursery program to add our Owen's House, our continued emphasis on school based interventions, social emotional supports and the community school models, our determination to serve those in the new Raise the Age population and to address the needs of our most vulnerable victims of trafficking and neglect. This is our pledge and our promise.

And so this is our legacy and our dream ... the past and the future aligned for us all in 2017, and for your support, encouragement, belief and for dreaming with us ... we say thank you beyond words.

Elaine Spaul
Executive Director

STAFF COUNSELOR
CRISIS NURSERY

Our impact is beyond great. We graciously look outside the box to support families and youth to meet every overlooked need. We provide a voice by listening to what is unheard by most. By far the greatest part of my job is being able to see the journey from stabilization to thriving. Our thanks is the growth we see in our youth.

LGBTQ YOUTH ARE ROUGHLY
7% OF OUR COMMUNITY
BUT 40%
OF OUR HOMELESS.

DONOR
LGBTQ HOMELESS YOUTH

We are supporting the Center for Youth's efforts to address homelessness among LGBTQ youth because of our own experiences. Having spent years in healthcare and government we know first-hand the negative impact homelessness has on the health, educational attainment, and ability to positively contribute to our community. These kids need our help and the Center for Youth knows how to provide it.

I SEE THE CENTER FOR YOUTH AS A
PLACE THAT ENCOURAGES
YOUTH AND ADULTS TO BE
BRIGHT LIGHTS
THAT NEVER DIM.

STAFF
SCHOOL-BASED PROGRAMS

Our community has its struggles but no matter what, because of our work we make sure our youth know that we have their back ... this is motivating.
